

For a relaxing break, cruise the UK's rivers and canals

Cruising in the UK

On a warm summer's day nothing beats a cruise along Britain's waterways. Wave to fellow boaters while meandering between picture postcard villages of a forgotten Britain. At a leisurely 4mph, you'll find life unrushed aboard the well-maintained and equipped vessels on offer from Drifters.

You'll soon be lock-savvy!

Moor up in the evenings and venture into a local village, or sit on deck with a bottle of wine and watch the world go by – bliss! Although self-catered, for an extra fee Drifters will provide the essentials. If not, I advise you to shop before you start, as there may not be convenient places on-route. Be prepared for the British climate too, by taking wet weather gear and some good books just in case, but you'd be hard stretched to find a more relaxing break.
